

Scholle A2B™: Delivering Value

Utilizing Scholle A2B's integrated packaging logistics service is the best supply chain product quality guarantee available to your business. Scholle introduces the first single-ply technology Flexitank with proprietary incorporated barrier formulation; product protection previously unavailable to the bulk liquids logistics industry.

Scholle A2B drives value to your bottom line with clear, measurable quality benefits. We've helped create global food and beverage industry leaders by facilitating the consistent delivery of high-quality product through the supply chain to the marketplace.

Scholle A2B offers FIBC, IBC, Flexitank and drum liners, from basic polyethylene structures to premium barrier, semi-bulk packaging for maximum flexibility.

Our commitment to product development continues to deliver industry-leading technology and innovation for our clients, assuring their products arrive at port and sell in the best possible condition.

Scholle A2B handles thousands of shipping containers every year, covering Latin and North America, Europe and Asia-Pacific. Our unique relationship with other logistics service providers allows for maximum flexibility in developing a service plan that's customized to fit your exact needs, all at globally-competitive rates.

A2B: INTEGRATED PACKAGING LOGISTICS

■ Cost effective

Scholle A2B has long-standing global relationships in the logistics and shipping industry, with some of the world's best operators, assuring you of competitive freight access.

■ Consultancy, cost benchmarking, freight rate negotiation, customs tariff auditing

Scholle A2B is a full-service logistics company. We offer a client-oriented partnership from the moment we meet to the moment your product arrives at port. We're focused on driving value to your logistics with world-class packaging and world-class service.

Read just one example of how our team went above and beyond for a recent client:

Twelve months ago, the Scholle A2B team made a visit to a global client. As a value-adding exercise, we offered to do a two-day customs tariff audit, free of charge, on their inbound/outbound logistics operation. The team uncovered in excess of $85,000 in incorrectly-processed imports for the six months year-to-date, with over $400,000 in retrospective claims that had been overpaid in duties over the preceding four years.

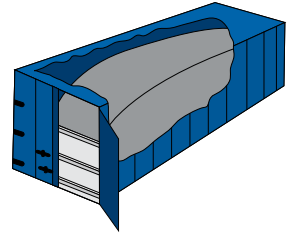

Our skilled, fully-licensed team saved a company $500,000 in two days...imagine what we could do for you.

Choose Your Pack Size

Scholle A2B offers a full line of flexible packaging options that are ideal for clients shipping bulk and semi-bulk consignments. Our industry-leading package technology and logistics support offer optimal product protection throughout the supply chain and are EU, FDA and Kosher-certified for the most sensitive food products.

FLEXITANKS

Flexitanks are quickly becoming the package of choice. Flexitanks are rapidly gaining global market share as a practical and cost-effective supply chain solution in the distribution of bulk liquid products. Scholle offers a range of Flexitank sizes to optimise the payload capabilities of standard 20' shipping containers.

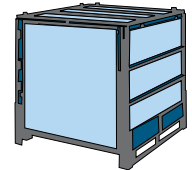

Sizes Available:

4227 USG (16.0m³)
4755 USG (18.0m³)
5283 USG (20.0m³)
5548 USG (21.0m³)
5812 USG (22.0m³)
6075 USG (23.0m³)
6340 USG (24.0m³)

Certification: EU and FDA

IBC/FIBC/TANK LINERS

IBC and FIBC semi-bulk packs are ideal for businesses that use batching processes, need intermediate warehouse storage capability and ease of handling in the 300 gallon (1,000 litre) pack size range. This flexibility allows for mixed product consignments to be shipped together, or "less than containerload" (LCL) consignments to be shipped economically. Scholle semi-bulk product solutions are designed to offer maximum protection to your liquid and powder cargos.

Sizes Available:

100-300 gallon

Certification: EU and FDA

200-LITER DRUMS

200-liter drums have long been the package of choice for bulk shipping and storage, and a preferred supply chain solution for many years. Scholle manufactures a wide range of drum liner packaging, and is a trusted supplier to the world's largest multi-national food companies.
